

Our Academy Needs You! Could you be our next parent governor?

We are now recruiting for Parent Governors. The Academy Council has an extremely important and rewarding job in raising the school's standards and is responsible, alongside the Principal and Trust Board, for the strategic direction of the school.

At Outwood we believe it is so important that we have parents on our Academy Councils because, alongside staff, no one is more passionate about the quality of education a child is receiving than a parent. Unquestionably desiring your child's best interests means you'll want nothing but the best for the school, leaving you committed to ensuring all children at the school receive the best education possible.

By becoming a governor, you will have the chance to influence all the areas that matter to both you and your child. Not only will you be able to support the school, but you'll be perfectly placed to challenge it and hold it to account. You can truly have a positive impact on your child's education.

Becoming a governor can also positively impact your own career as all our governors are provided with training to help them fulfil the role, while also helping them to develop transferable skills. Whether you have a lot of education-related career experience or not, our Academy Council's require people from all backgrounds so we can ensure we make the correct decisions for all our children.

If you would like to stand for this interesting and rewarding position then please e-mail enquiries@ledgerlane.outwood.com requesting a nomination form or please collect a form from the Academy Office. Nominations for this round of governor recruitment close on Monday 6th November.
